Tutoring Experience

Over the past 9 years, I've worked with students from diverse educational backgrounds, focusing on AP English Language and Composition. I've helped learners develop strong analytical and writing skills, preparing them for top results in both coursework and exams. Additionally, I've guided students in IB and IGCSE English, emphasising literary comprehension and academic writing.

My experience includes working with international schools in Singapore and online tutoring for students globally. From teaching structured essay formats to enhancing critical reading skills, I have tailored lessons to meet each student's unique needs. Many of my students have successfully progressed to prestigious universities worldwide.
